British Intellectuals Rally

Anti-A-Bomb Drive Booms

LONDON (CP)— With almost religious fervor, a group of British artists, scientists, novelists and churchmen has launched a bid for nuclear disarmament.

* * *

The campaign opened this week with a series of mass meetings and will gather momentum early in April with a four-day march from Trafalgar Square to Aldermaston atomic weapons plant.

* * *

Committees are being set up across the country to enlist public support for banning the hydrogen bomb, which the organizers say poses the "supreme moral issue" of the times. They would have Britain renounce it herself, even though other powers refuse.

* * *

The president of the campaign, philosopher Bertrand Russell said that as things go now it is an "even chance" whether any human being will be alive 40 years from now.

It is hard to estimate how influential the new ban-the-bomb bid will become, but the passionate feelings of those involved have been clearly demonstrated.

* * *

The News Chronicle says the meetings added up to the "biggest indoor demonstration in London since the war—probably since the great popular front rallies against Fascism in the late 1930s."

* * *

Prominent persons associated with the movement are author Rose Macaulay, Professor C. H. Waddington, nuclear scientist John Rotblat, actresses Flora Robson and Dame Edith Evans, playwright J. B. Priestley and historian Alan Taylor.

J. B. PRIESTLEY

* * *

The campaign coincides with stirrings of unrest among some Conservative back benchers on the British government's nuclear policy.

* * *

Concern has been caused by the statement in last Thursday's white paper implying that Britain would be prepared to use the H-bomb in reply to Communist aggression — even aggression by conventional forces.

* * *

The emotional flavor of the reaction of the fast-swelling, anti-H-bomb group to the nuclear race is captured by British writer Philip Toynbee, who says: Those who have had "at least a partial vision of our destruction" are like people who have leaned out the window of an express train and seen that a bridge is down immediately ahead.

$100,000 in Payments Cited in Bribe Trial

B.C. Forest Products Dossier Before Court

VANCOUVER (CP)—Payments of huge sums of money by cheque and cash, arrangements for commissions on government business and for a "three-way split" were pinpointed by the Crown Wednesday in detailing its charges in the Sommers bribery-conspiracy case.

In a hefty dossier of "particulars" of alleged transactions between former lands and forests minister R. E. Sommers and others, the Crown said Mr. Sommers himself had received considerations to a total of some $15,000 in a conspiracy involving the issuance by him of lucrative B.C. forest management licences.

BCFP CITED

It charged that B.C. Forest Products Limited — one of the charged companies — paid out more than $100,000 to the others involved; that C. D. Schultz, head of C. D. Schultz and Company Limited, arranged a meeting to deal with a "three-way split" and had ordered falsification of his company's records.

The dossier was filed at the fifth day of preliminary hearing in which the Crown charges Mr. Sommers accepted bribes in return for granting certain forest management licences permitting the holders to cut timber on crown land.

IDENTIFICATION

It came as the Crown's chief witness, accountant C. W. Eversfield, took the stand for the second day and continued his identification of the Crown exhibits. Many of the documents he identified were the ones he had taken when he left the employ of Pacific Coast Services in 1955. It was later RCMP investigation of these documents which led to charges being laid.

Mr. Sommers, who resigned his portfolio in February, 1956, but still retains his private member's seat in the legislature, was charged in November last year. Charged with him are H. W. Gray and John M. Gray, C. D. Schultz, the C. D. Schultz Company Limited, Evergreen Lumber Sales, Limited, Pacific Coast Services Limited and B.C. Forest Products, Limited.

TOLD OF TALK

Crown prosecutor Stewart McMorran first introduced the dossier of "particulars" Tuesday but they were withheld pending defence study. Wednesday Schultz' counsel Alfred Bull took strong exception to a section in the document headed "effects" which allegedly showed how money had flowed between the accused.

Magistrate Oscar Orr agreed it should be deleted, but the re-

Speed It Up Orr Pleads

VANCOUVER (CP) — Magistrate Oscar Orr, whose job it will be to rule whether there is sufficient evidence to send the Sommers case to trial, appealed yesterday for a speedup in identification of documents.

"At this rate all the parties will go bankrupt," the magistrate quipped — an apparent reference to the high-priced battery of eight counsel sitting in court for the defence.

Age No Handicap For Hot Rodders

CHILLIWACK (CP)—Police checking hot rodders in this town fell in behind a 1930 coupe when they noticed one of the passengers riding the rear bumper and hanging onto the spare wheel.

The car pulled up at a house and the police came alongside to reprimand the youngsters.

Then they found that the outrider was 78, the driver 72, and the two lady passengers of undisclosed but mature ages.

At Least 70 Die As Explosives Shatter Freighter

BAHREIN, Persian Gulf (AP)—A new British freighter carrying explosives for Iran's oil fields blew up in Bahrein harbor Wednesday night while the crew was fighting a two-day fire.

Unconfirmed reports said 70 to 80 persons were killed and it was believed there were about 17 survivors.

WRECKAGE FOUND

Some wreckage was found two miles away. The explosion rocked the island, off the coast of Saudi Arabia.

Rescue craft working by the light of flames from the shattered hulk of the 7,440-ton Seistan quickly picked up one body and nine wounded survivors from more than 60 persons reported to have been aboard.

30 STILL ALIVE

There were reports that at least 20 others also lived through the blast. The exact casualty toll was not likely to be known until daylight.

The Seistan, a motorship built in 1957 at South Shields, England, had a fire aboard when she entered the Persian Gulf on a voyage from Liverpool and put into Bahrein waters to extinguish it.

Half the explosives had been moved ashore when the blast ripped the ship.

Sudan Turns To UN

KHARTOUM, Sudan (UP)—The Sudanese government, charging that Egypt is massing troops on its border, decided early today to take the dispute to the United Nations.

After an emergency meeting which lasted beyond midnight, the cabinet announced its decision to seek "the good offices of the security council" in the dispute over frontier territories.

The government said it was taking the move in view of the grave situation caused by the deadlock of talks in Cairo.

Fresh reports here of Egyptian troop movements southward toward the frontier also contributed to the decision, government sources said.

The Sudanese army and police force were placed on alert.

Mother Fleeing Murder Scene

Baby Girl Buried Alive

OTTAWA (CP)—An Eskimo baby girl, buried as dead in a caribou hide, has been found alive by RCMP investigating the shooting of the child's father and subsequent fatal knifing of another Eskimo.

The child was one of two the mother, Kikkik, reported died while she was being sought for questioning in connection with the double killing in the barren lands west of Hudson Bay.

DOUBLE KILLING

Kikkik was found Sunday after an air-and-ground search by RCMP investigating the double killing near Padlei, N.W.T., a hamlet about 200 miles northwest of Eskimo Point on the western shore of Hudson Bay.

When found, three of her five children were with her.

BURIED IN SNOW

RCMP headquarters here said the other two children were reported to have died of exposure and been buried in the snow.

An RCMP patrol has since found one child, Annacatha, alive and the other, Nesha, dead, headquarters said.

They were wrapped together in a caribou skin and buried under blocks of snow.

ALIVE WHEN ABANDONED

"The condition of the dead child indicated that perhaps she also was alive when abandoned," the RCMP said in a statement.

Annacatha has been taken to Eskimo Point where she is recovering.

Crash Probe

Air Pilot On Duty 22 Hours

MONTREAL (BUP) — Three-man board investigating Canada's worst air disaster learned yesterday that the pilot of the doomed plane had been on duty 22 consecutive hours.

A department of transport official, William Prowse told the board that Captain Norman Ramsay had been on duty since the Maritime Central Airways DC-4 left London, for Montreal and Toronto. Plane crashed near Issoudun., Que., last August.

Prowse added that as far as he knew, Canadian aviation regulations had no limit on the time a pilot is allowed to fly in a given period. He said each airline set up its own limits. Total permissible time that the transport department allows, however, is 105 hours a month.

Town 'Ghost' To Be Laid?

A proposal for the preservation of one of B.C.'s oldest communities, Barkerville, now almost a ghost town, but once the centre of B.C.'s gold rush, will be announced shortly, William Speare (SC, Cariboo) told the legislature yesterday.

He called the proposal "permanent, progressive and long-range." Government officials would give no details.

Far Too Much Leisure, Says MLA

Strong Discipline, Work Needed at Brannan Lake

Most youths sent to Brannan Lake Boys school near Nanaimo have "far too much leisure time," Mrs. Buda Brown (SC-Vancouver-Point Grey) said in the legislature yesterday.

(See other Brannan Lake story on page 7).

Conditions were not improving at Brannan Lake and it was not fulfilling the job hoped for, she stated in urging that authorities see the boys get strong discipline and supervised work.

During her speech in the budget debate, Mrs. Brown also came out in strong support for high school driver training courses which had been criticized last week by the only other woman member, Mrs. Lois Haggen (CCF, Grand Forks-Greenwood).

Mrs. Brown said that the 100 acres on which Brannan Lake school is situated should be farmed and that most of the food required for the institution could be grown and raised there.

New Missile 'Invulnerable'

CHICAGO (AP) — An army scientist has announced the development of a new ballistic guided missile which he said is "invulnerable to any known enemy counter-measures."

The new weapon, more powerful than the army's first ballistic guided missile, the Corporal, was introduced by Dr. William H. Martin, civilian director of army research and development. It is called the Sergeant.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

MOST frightening prophecy I have read for some time is the statement by a rocket scientist that war may soon be declared by electronic brains without human intervention.

Dr. W. H. Pickering, head of the California Institute of Technology jet propulsion laboratory, was quoted to this effect by Stanley Burke in the Ottawa Citizen.

When radar picks up missiles streaking toward us at 20,000 miles an hour, there is no time for the human mind to think about a counter-attack.

"The decision to destroy an enemy nation—and by inference our own—will be made by a radar set, a telephone circuit, an electronic computer. It will be arrived at without the aid of human intelligence.

"If a human observer cries 'Stop, let me check the calculations,' he is already too late. His launching site is destroyed and the war is lost." So says Dr. Pickering—who, by the way, was one of the men chiefly responsible for launching the U.S. satellite Explorer.

Would the machines be able to choose between missiles and meteors?

". . . The failure of a handful of vacuum tubes and transistors could determine the fate of our civilization.

"In a few years it will not be governments which make the choice. The governments will be committed to rely on the reliability of some electronic equipment.

"If the answer is not found in a very few years there will be no need for the answer, because all that is left of humanity will be starting the long climb from the stone age."

* * *

The dismaying prospect of "the electronic general staff" may give the nations a push toward peace. Some disarmament leaders nurse this hope, reports Burke.

It looks a faint hope from here, but I suppose it is better than no hope. The danger of mutual destruction has been present for some time; yet the international climate has not warmed up appreciably.

Electronic control would make the danger more acute. An agreement between the powers to renounce automatic triggering, or give up missiles altogether, could surely be enforced by nothing short of total exchange of inspectors and observers.

Perhaps the powers could try a pilot arrangement of this kind in a small area, to see how the administrative details worked out. Maybe Russia could let a corps of unarmed Western observers into the Crimea, and we could give them the run of Rhode Island, for a start.

If we can't get together, we might as well start laying in our individual stockpiles of food, fuel and ammunition, in our radiation-proof bomb shelters.

Liberals Will Name Candidate Tomorrow

Three or four persons may seek the Victoria Liberal candidacy in the March 31 election, to be determined at a meeting in party headquarters, Government Street, tomorrow evening.

Dr. F. T. Fairey, this city's MP from 1953 until last year, and Saanich municipal councillor C. M. Nelles said yesterday they will allow their names to stand. Oak Bay councillor Geoffrey Ellis made a similar statement earlier in the week.

Another prominent Victorian, Dr. E. L. McNiven, said yesterday he is "considering" seeking the nomination. Ald. Hugh Ramsay, mentioned earlier as a possible nominee, dropped out of the race.

Give your Lenten meals a "lift"!

Look at the Lenten dishes you can make with Lipton Tomato Vegetable and Green Pea Soups

Lipton Fish Creole. Add 1 package Lipton Tomato Vegetable Soup to 3 cups briskly boiling water. Drop in a bay leaf, boil rapidly 5 minutes. Thicken slightly with flour, simmer 5 minutes more. While this is cooking, arrange 1 large package frozen fish-sticks in the bottom of a casserole. Remove bay leaf from sauce, add sliced onion-rings, season, and pour over fish-sticks. Top casserole with tomato slices and buttered crumbs and bake 20-25 minutes in moderate oven. Serves 6.

Lipton Tomato Vegetable Salad Ring. Make up 1 package Lipton Tomato Vegetable Soup, according to directions. Stir in 2 packages lemon jelly powder until dissolved. Add ¼ cup lemon juice and ¼ cup orange juice, and refrigerate until slightly thickened. Then fold in 1 cup finely-shredded cabbage and ¼ cup either chopped raw celery or green pepper. Spoon into ring-mould and chill until firm. Unmould on bed of greens, and fill centre with mayonnaise. Garnish. Serves 6-8—tastes and looks wonderful!

Lipton Green Pea Soup . . . the traditional Canadian soup, thick, nourishing, fragrant . . . and entirely meatless. Your grandmother took hours to make this fine, rib-sticking soup . . . but it's all yours in one tidy little Lipton package, and ready in just ten minutes. Try it soon!

Lipton Lenten Onion-Scallop. Peel and parboil 4-6 medium-sized onions. Make up 1 package Lipton Green Pea Soup, using 2½ cups cold water. Season as desired. Arrange onions in baking dish, pour hot soup over them, dust with paprika and top with grated sharp cheese. Bake in moderate oven until onions are tender and cheese bubbly. Serves 4-6.

Lipton Tomato Vegetable Soup . . . is a rich tomato broth, twinkling with vegetables and golden egg-noodles. And like all Lipton Soups, it's really fresh and nourishing because it's cooked for the first time in your own kitchen. Ever heard of an easier way to serve delicious home-made soup? (And it's absolutely meatless, too!)

Bribe Case Transactions Listed

John Gray, left, and H. W. Gray, defendants in the Sommers bribery and conspiracy hearing now in progress in Vancouver, figure prominently in the list of transactions presented to the court.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The particulars of the charges filed in the Sommers conspiracy case yesterday listed transactions involving more than $100,000 in the issuance of cheques and payments made by B.C. Forest Products Ltd. during a period from November, 1953, to December, 1957.

The list showed:

B.C. Forest Products Ltd. issued cheques to the total of $68,000 to the Pacific Coast Services, and $48,496 to C. D. Schultz Co. Ltd.

Other transactions listed showed BCFP as making payments of $20,730 and $13,766 to C. D. Schultz Ltd., and the issuance of cheques for 36 months for $1,000 each to Pacific Coast Services and cheques for 14 months for $1,000 each to CDS Ltd.

The dossier of particulars regarding H. W. Gray, president of Pacific Coast Services, Limited, charged that in December, 1953 he made a telegraphic transfer of $2,500 to Sommers and issued instructions to pay $607 for a number of rugs Sommers and his wife had purchased.

The particulars also alleged that Mr. Gray, in February, 1954, paid himself $1,000 in cash from the account of Evergreen Lumber Sales, Limited, and "mailed same in cash to Sommers in Victoria."

Between March 4 and May 18, 1954, the particulars alleged that Mr. Gray "sent or gave six $500 bonds to Sommers in Victoria" and that in April, 1954 he received $500 from J. M. Gray and $250 from Pacific Coast Services and "paid total to Sommers in cash."

In August-September, 1954, the dossier alleges, H. W. Gray signed two Pacific Coast cheques to J. M. Gray and S. W. Armitage for $1,875 each and received $3,750 cash in return "which he paid to Sommers."

The document said that between November, 1954 and February, 1955 H. W. Gray issued instructions to "reconcile monies held for Sommers and discussed and dealth with same," and that between December, 1954 and January, 1955 he attended a meeting with C. D. Schultz and accountants "re books of account showing three-way split."

The particulars of charges against C. D. Schultz alleges that in March, 1953, he was engaged with Mr. Gray and between H. W. Gray and June, 1954 "instructed that two-thirds of commission and two-thirds of retainer fees were to be paid by C. D. Schultz, Limited to Pacific Coast Services."

In June, 1954, the dossier alleges that Mr. Schultz approved payment of $4,666.67 by C. D. Schultz Limited to Pacific Coast Services "being two-thirds of $2,000 received from Tahsis (Lumber Company) June 5/54 and two-thirds of $5,000 received from Empire (Lumber Company) Jan. 20/54."

The dossier said that between June and July, 1954, Mr. Schultz "instructed that one-half of amounts paid to Pacific Coast Services were to be paid to Sommers," and that in December, 1954, he "paid Sommers in cash —$1,000."

The Crown document charged that in 1954 at Vancouver Mr. Schultz "arranged with Gray to pay 10 per cent of commissions on government business to Pacific Coast Services to be paid over to Sommers; later rearranged to 5 per cent; later to 3½ per cent, and later to 4 per cent."

The document continued with these accusations against Schultz:

"Feb.-March, 1955, Vancouver; attended meeting with Gray and accountants re books of account showing three-way split.

"Jan.-March, 1955, Vancouver; instructed C. D. Schultz, Limited, staff to change entries in books of account and rewrite certain ledger sheets.

"Feb.-March, 1955, Vancouver; instructed C. D. Schultz Limited, staff to remove incriminating records of company."

The dossier of particulars in the charges against Pacific Coast Services Limited began with an April, 1953, entry when it said Pacific "paid for entertainment of Sommers, Schultz and Gray" and charged the company paid Gray's expenses to visit Sommers in Victoria in the same month.

In June, 1953, the document said Pacific paid "for Sommers' visits to Vancouver from Victoria" and in October the same year paid for "Mrs. Sommers and two adults Victoria-Vancouver."

Elsewhere in the Pacific particulars, the Crown document noted a $15,000 payment by B.C. Forest Products' cheque for $2,000 and selected by Sommers. In November, 1953 and a Pacific payment of $607.29 for rugs in November, 1954 to 1957 the document said Pacific received $1,000 monthly retainer contract with B.C. Forest Products, receiving in November, 1954 a Forest Products to Pacific in 36 cheques for $1,000 each.

$100,000 Costs Cited in Court

mainder of the particulars were filed.

The dossier as filed showed alleged transactions by which Mr. Sommers is alleged to have received a total of $8,000 in cash and $3,000 in bonds from H. W. Gray and $1,500 in cash from C. D. Schultz over a period extending from December, 1953 and December, 1954.

In addition it listed—without mentioning the amounts—payments by Pacific Coast Services for entertaining of Mr. Sommers and Mr. Schultz and said B.C. Forest Products had paid the expenses of Mr. Sommers, Mr. Gray and Hector Munro, late B.C. Forest Products president, on a trip to Toronto in 1953. Another part of the dossier listed this transportation expense as having been covered by $2,500 paid by B.C. Forest Products.

Schultz also was charged with arranging meetings with unnamed accountants of Pacific Coast and the C. D. Schultz Company. These, the dossier said, were in regard to reconciliation of monies received for a three-way split to assist in Pacific Coast Services' accounts being made up from information received."

The document said Schultz attended a meeting with Gray in February-March, 1955, and accountants of the firms "re books of account showing three-way split."

The document did not make clear who were to be participants in the alleged "three-way split."

ORDERS TO STAFF

Between January and March the same year, the Crown document said, Schultz "instructed C. D. Schultz, Limited, staff to change entries in books of account and rewrite certain ledger sheets" and instructed the staff to "remove incriminating records of the company."

The particulars listed transactions involving more than $100,000 in the issuance of cheques and payments made by B.C. Forest Products Limited during the period November, 1953 to December, 1957 to the Pacific Coast Company and the Schultz Company.

LICENCE AWARDED

The crown noted in its details on the Sommers charges that Mr. Sommers had approved in December, 1954 forestry management licence for B.C. Forest Products which had been applied for through the Schultz Company in January, 1954. A forest management licence contract was awarded B.C. Forest Products in April, 1955.

Later, dealing with a Pacific Coast debit memo to B.C. Forest Products for $15,000, Mr. Eversfield testified that H. W. Gray told him the $15,000 was due to Pacific in connection with a forest management licence.

MUCH DISCUSSION

He said Mr. Gray told him that "one-half was to be set aside for Robert Sommers, minister of lands and forests and there was much discussion as to how it was to be accomplished."

Following Gray's instructions, Mr. Eversfield said he had deposited the $5,125 in Mr. Gray's account.

"He then told me to figure out the share that was to go to Mr. Sommers. This he calculated for me as one-half of $15,000, less 25 per cent, less $500, resulting in $5,125 owing to Robert Sommers.

Mr. Eversfield will take the stand again today.

The crown's document of particulars of the charges, given the defence Tuesday by crown prosecutor McMorran, was brought up by Mr. Bull as the hearing opened Wednesday.

In its original form, Mr. Bull said, the crown document presumed an exercise of influence. But who, he asked, had been influenced — "the cabinet, the premier or whom?"

Which Is the Faster?

IT is worth while examining the contrasting Diefenbaker and Pearson plans for coping with unemployment. The Conservative prime minister has launched a large-scale works program to stimulate industrial recovery and provide jobs; the Liberal leader proposes to cut taxes to enable people to spend more on goods and thus spur economic progress. The Diefenbaker regime has taken other steps to ameliorate distress but interest has centred on the respective merits of these two policies.

Mr. Pearson, while conceding some value to the works plan, claims that its curative effect is too slow because of the preliminaries involved in getting works projects under way. He says that his method would bring quicker results by increasing personal spending power and bringing "job-creating dollars" into play. That is very much open to question; the weight of argument in fact inclines the other way.

To give effect to his plan Mr. Pearson would have to win the election. This is doubtful but assuming he did, it would be the end of March before that took place. It would be another week, perhaps two, before he took office. He could not rearrange taxation schedules without the opening of a new Parliament. That would be at least another two weeks later, and probably another fortnight at the minimum before the legislation could be passed.

Further delays are inescapable. It would probably take more weeks for departmental forms to be redrafted and printed, and still longer to have them distributed to employers and for pay cheques to be affected. In total this would mean that about four months would pass before even the first tinge of the Pearson plan could become operative. That would be well into summer. Meanwhile the Diefenbaker works plan is actually now going ahead and obviously would be absorbing workers much ahead of the Liberal timetable.

The other, crucial, aspect must also be compared. There can be no instant economic benefit from the purchase of furniture and refrigerators—cited by Mr. Pearson as the symbol of his plan. It would take some time before the effect seeped through and became "job-creating dollars." All spending contributes to the general economy but miracles are not created overnight. Nor can furniture and refrigerators be claimed to be more positive influences in providing jobs than the widespread use of machinery, materials and ancillary products attached to large-scale public works programs.

When it is realized that the latter will shortly be going full scale and the Pearson plan could not in any event begin to be operative at all until summer, there can be no question that of the two the Diefenbaker plan will bring the swiftest relief to the unemployment situation.

Good Use for Money Saved

THE extraordinarily warm weather this winter has meant more to the southern end of Vancouver Island than pleasant living and savings on fuel bills. Thanks to the complete absence of snow, the municipalities everywhere have not had to spend a nickel on snow clearance, which in the case of the city alone cost the taxpayers $18,000 during the winter of 1956-57. Nor have they had to make good extensive flood damage such as occurred early last winter. And to make the outlook even better, when spring comes it is extremely unlikely that there will be frost damage to repair, because so far the temperature has stayed consistently above freezing point. All this adds up to a saving of scores of thousands of dollars to the region as a whole.

Unfortunately it does not follow that the streets of Greater Victoria are generally in good shape for the coming spring and summer when, because of the Centenary, traffic will be heavier than ever before. There may have been no frost cracking and heaving but there has been a great deal of water damage to paved surfaces, due to the above-average rainfall. The condition of many of the residential streets in particular is far from satisfactory.

For once, therefore, we suggest that an unexpected saving in public expenditure be not passed along to the taxpayers, but that it should be applied in an all-out effort to improve the streets before the tourist season and the celebrations begin. Hard pressed for money though they may be, this is a year in which the municipalities should be prepared to spend every penny they can scrape together on putting the older and too long neglected streets into some semblance of repair. This is work which should be undertaken as speedily as possible, thereby serving the dual purpose of providing winter employment.

Situation Improving

CONTINUATION of mild weather and a slight improvement in local shipyard programs, together with brightening prospects of early resumption of housing and other forms of construction, are all helping to ameliorate the severity of Greater Victoria's off season from an employment standpoint. Future contracts for work at local shipbuilding plants are encouraging, but they do not contribute to the current situation. That is that there are still numbers of semi-skilled and unskilled men out of work, not all of whom are eligible for unemployment relief. For a month or six weeks to come, therefore, every extra job that can be created, however limited, will have its weight in the community.

While it is the fashion to look for public works to take up the slack in the off season, there can be no denying that it is the public itself which has the first and the greatest influence on the total volume of work in any community. The "Do It Now" drive has made a very useful contribution this winter through the multiplicity of little jobs that citizens have been induced to set in motion. A further hearty push in the same direction for the next few weeks could result in a cumulative and important improvement in the situation. The employment service offices have on file the active lists of men and women who are available in the community. This liaison should be used by every household that can add to the volume of additional work now.

For the long pull British Columbia prospects have been brightening both in the export market and inside Canada. The need at the moment is for many more short-time jobs which can be started immediately and engage a few individuals for a while at something approximating their regular callings. While this is recognized in the Greater Victoria area, a good deal remains to be done to tide over the passage of the next few weeks. More steam behind the "Do It Now" effort would be thoroughly worth while.

Interpreting the News:

No Chips on Canada's Shoulder

By BILL BOSS

Canadian Press Staff Writer

CANADA has adopted an attitude of unqualified goodwill towards both of the major regroupings among Arab nations in the Middle East.

Egypt and Syria announced Feb. 1 that they had formed a United Arab Republic. Yemen, an absolute monarchy, said Feb. 11 that she will federate with it Feb. 21.

Wealthy Iraq and her poorer neighbor, Jordan, announced they had formed the Arab Federal State, both their monarchs retaining their domestic thrones with King Faisal of Iraq becoming the federation's crowned head.

While recognizing that the monarchical federation was called into being to offset the United Republic, Canada's position is to deprecate any Western pressures that would tend to pit one against the other.

The Egypt-Syria combination is considered essentially neutralist in relation to the major power blocs, while Yemen harbors an anti-British feeling after armed clashes last autumn.

The Iraq-Jordan partnership is held to be more pro-Western. Iraq is a member of the Baghdad Pact, but her withdrawal from that alliance now would not surprise anyone.

Officials in Ottawa say they have detected a tendency in the West to encourage rivalry between the two groups with a view to splitting the Arab world. This is held to savor more of taking a leaf from the Communists' notebook than of developing the long-run sympathetic approach which Canada feels has better chances of earning goodwill from both groupings.

"Divid and conquer" may be said to have been paraphrased by the Communists into "split them, unite with one of them, then devour him, and the others in turn."

External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith said the Egypt-Syria union must be viewed as the logical development of two "significant and powerful trends" in the area.

These are a surge of newly-awakened nationalism throughout the Arab region, and a desire there for "non-alignment" with either of the two ideological camps dividing the world. In the Middle East non-alignment is called "positive neutrality."

"The sudden union of Egypt and Syria may be a step towards that wider Arab unity which has long been the goal of Arab nationalists," Mr. Smith said two days before the Iraq-Jordan federation was announced.

"We have no way as yet of judging how the new union will develop, or how far it may ultimately extend; but the tide of history is running fast in all these countries, and it would be unwise, I think, to adopt hasty attitudes with respect to a development which may in fact represent the pattern of the future."

NOT being a politician I have no way of knowing how persons of that ilk really feel about elections.

Some politicians seem to enjoy electioneering; others, perhaps not so well equipped for the cut and thrust of the hustings, may not find it entirely a joy.

Even so great a master of the platform as Winston Churchill had his doubts on the subject. At least he bemoaned, and in print, that he had spent no fewer than fourteen months of his life in what he called "this wearing clatter."

But he is really no guide, because he went on thereafter to contest at least another half-dozen elections.

* * *

For all their possible aplomb in election campaigns, however, politicians must wish, like comedians, for the good old days. These were the eras when a political thrust, like a joke, would last a whole tour of appearances.

There was a time when a vaudevillian could go all round the circuit with a few stock wittiisms. He might even change a joke to suit the local audience without dire result, because in his next theatre of call no one would be the wiser.

And in the theatrical world, as indeed in the political realm, innocence of reception has its value—for both comedians and politicians.

The coming of radio, and its younger but more voracious brother television, was a body blow to the comedian, for these mediums swallow up entertainment material faster even than some politicians can swallow their words.

They survive—the comedians I mean although so do politicians too, of course—but only at the expense of audiences who must put up with a certain staleness of expression.

* * *

It would not be fair to indict the politician because when he comes to your bailiwick he has nothing fresh to tell you. Poor chap he's probably worn to a comparative frazzle—even if sartorially he looks as fresh as a debutant—thinking of a new way to say the same thing.

He as well as the comedian, you see, is the victim of speedy communication. He cannot as his old-time predecessor did, and as the old-time comedian did when he fashioned each joke to local listeners, say one thing in one town and the opposite in another town.

Not very well, anyway, albeit some politicians try such a switch. But every speech, of political stars at least, is bruited far and wide across the nation.

This, inevitably, means repetition of the most boring kind. The speaker himself is probably bored also, but that is his funeral.

True enough Hitler made repetition pay off, and in his home land I suppose Mr. Khrushchev does too. This is a freer land, however, and with all their blemishes none of our politicians are dictators—I hope.

But, and it pains me to say this, before our election campaigns are over they grow frightfully tiring. The politicians have exhausted their material in the first few days, and all that comes after could be cited by ditto marks.

A single week of "this wearing clatter" would, I think, be enough. And I'd be surprised if politicians, if only in secret, didn't heartily agree.

Reports from Ottawa

AS a Conservative MP told me with surprising frankness, just before he headed for the hustings:

"John Diefenbaker is our life insurance. Without him we wouldn't be in office. Without him we couldn't stay in office."

It is as simple as that. The man who used to be described as the lone wolf of the Tory party, who was said to be an independent operator rather than a leader, has become the unquestioned boss of the party simply and solely because of his political indispensability. He is a winner.

That is why Diefenbaker was able to ignore his back bench MPs and even most of his cabinet ministers in arriving at his decision to risk his and their political fortunes on March 31. He is the boss. There is no other.

* * *

There are plenty of signs that Diefenbaker revels in the power which came to him last June 10. The John Diefenbaker of 1958 is a different man from the one who faced the people with great uncertainty, but with amazing vigor and determination, at the beginning of the 1957 election campaign.

Now his confidence is overflowing. His poise and aplomb have bloomed. He has shed humility. His showmanship is given full and aggressive rein—and this may be overly done, as when he hams up the act. He moves with sureness and seemingly instinctive decisiveness, although it yet remains to be seen how infallible his intuition is.

* * *

But the fact remains that essentially Diefenbaker is still the individual operator. His followers follow John because they regard him as the party's modern Moses. He has delivered them; and so not theirs to question his decisions, or seek to participate therein.

There is apparently well-founded speculation that prior to Jan. 31 only four or five men knew Diefenbaker planned to pull the plug on Parliament Feb. 1. Defence Minister Pearkes and Transport Minister Hees almost certainly knew. They are the only members of the cabinet whose personal loyalty to Diefenbaker is unquestionably absolute—proved by the fact that it antedates the 1948 convention which Diefenbaker lost to George Drew. Other cabinet ministers jumped on the Diefenbaker bandwagon later—some much later. They include former rivals and former opponents, and potential future rivals and opponents.

* * *

Those who know the nuances of the administration consider it no coincidence that Davie Fulton, the one member of the cabinet whose reputation is keeping pace with Diefenbaker's, has David Walker as his parliamentary assistant.

Walker, elected MP for Toronto-Rosedale last year, is another pre-1948 Diefenbaker man. He and Senator W. R. Brunt, Diefenbaker's close friend and schoolboy chum whom the PM appointed to the Senate soon after the Tories took office, are believed to be the only other members of the last Parliament who have their chief's full confidence. As parliamentary assistant, Walker is in a very good position to keep a close eye on Fulton.

* * *

Aside from these few, perhaps the only person the PM trusts implicitly is his wife. And those who have observed the pair closely since Diefenbaker was elected Tory leader believe that her good influence on him would be hard to exaggerate.

Someone remarked the other day that the loss of this election would kill Diefenbaker. One would hope that is not literally true, but the blow to his spirit would be tremendous. However, with Olive Diefenbaker's support he probably would come back fighting.

The Packsack

Nothing for Nothing

By GREGORY CLARK

IF YOU had been up around Geraldton in northern Ontario recently, you would have seen a curious sight. The pipeline from the west is coming through great forested regions and its right-of-way is going to necessitate the cutting of a great deal of timber.

You would have seen, a couple of weeks ago, parties of foresters going into this right-of-way and pre-cutting some of the very finest northern pine. Carefully selected trees, the choicest. After trimming the trunks to be harvested, the foresters went and cut branches and twigs from the very tips of the fallen pines. And these they put in bags and carted away.

The twigs and branches they took were those that bore the fattest and richest cones.

These twigs will be distributed far away and south to the forest nurseries of the province, to be grafted on to small vigorous seedlings. And from these grafted seedlings, in a few years, can be harvested cones full of seeds of these finest and hardiest northern pines.

* * *

For more than a hundred and fifty years we Canadians have gone on the assumption that we can take all we like from the bush and pay nothing back. But for some years a realization has been growing, not only among foresters but among bankers, industrialists and politicians, that in this world you get nothing for nothing. So a great campaign is under way all over Canada to regenerate our forests; to start paying back.

This curious little item about the tip twigs of the pines is a hint of the new attitude towards the wilds that is being widely accepted by our long-range thinkers.

Sowing and Reaping

THE Calgary school board has turned to a policy of expelling students caught in acts of vandalism. Since that tends to offset the reputation for heroics which some of the punks acquire from other students, it is for the good.

Also the kids themselves should be made to pay for the damage. They should have to work out every cent of it, not as punishment but as a simple act of justice. They should have to learn about cause and effect, sowing and reaping. To have their parents get them "off the hook" is not good enough.

And finally they should get expert psychiatric attention. Some of them are ill.

—CALGARY HERALD.

On the Record

Hysteria Unjustified

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

IN ALL that has been written in the last days about the Egypt-Syria union and its repercussions in the Arab states, there is almost no disposition to recognize the beginning of the fulfillment of an historic movement of long antecedents. Colleagues whom I hold in high esteem see in it nothing but the machinations of Moscow and the native Arab communists.

But this is not the opinion of two people who know more about communism than most of us, and who have recently made thorough studies in the area: Norman Thomas and Freda Utley. Nor is it that of this columnist, whose knowledge of the area, its personalities, and politics is not inconsiderable.

* * *

Circumstantial evidence does not sustain the prevailing view.

The move for union with Egypt came from Syria. Syria, like Egypt, has accepted Russian arms. "Syria has the largest communist party in the Middle East." Ergo, it is argued, the move is communist.

Nobody knows the strength of the communist party in any Arab state because they have no legal communist parties. Communism, fanatical or pro-Sovietism, is strong among some officers of the Syrian army and among some politicians. But the move came from precisely those persons who were thoroughly alarmed at the spread of the movement.

By no stretch of imagination can one consider Shukri Al-Kuwatly, or the foreign minister, Mr. Bitar, who took the lead, pro-communist. They are Arab nationalists opposing all external control, anti-colonialists, and, like all Arabs and Arab parties with one exception, anti-Israel.

The exception is the Arab communists, whose leaders alone are in constant touch with Israel's communist leaders. They alone are pro-Israel. Significantly perhaps, Israel's communists are never mentioned here. On paper it is a small party, with only three representatives in parliament. But it is closely allied with MAPAM (United Workers' Party of Israel), which is strong and whose publications often echo the communist party line. It would be extremely interesting to know the attitude of Israel's communists and fellow-travellers toward the steps for Arab federation under the present Arab leadership.

* * *

For it seems quite clear that those who initiated the move were seeking to outflank their own communists.

An influential man in Syria has been the "Red Millionaire." Khaleb El Azam, a veritable Talleyrand within the government coalition in which he has been minister of defence. Under Syria's successive masters, Turks and French, he managed to get rich. He negotiated the arms deal with the Soviets. He lives in a palace and his reception room is decorated with a large blown-up photograph of himself in Moscow in the company of General Zhukov.

He was the man who unloaded sandbags before public buildings to serve as "angles of resistance" during the Turkish-Syrian war-scare that petered out along with General Zhukov. His line is that "Russia is no longer communist." He is a Russia-truster. His ambition has been the premiership, and that he might have achieved—by fair means or foul.

* * *

Now President Nasser is to pick a new temporary cabinet for the combined countries. Will Khaleb El Azam be chosen? Or anyone associated with the Russia-first-trusters? It would be wise to wait and see.

If any communists are close to the throne of the new state, the chance of federation with any other Arab state is nil, and so is the likelihood of long survival of its founders, who have a normal indisposition to cut their own throats!

* * *

The present hysterical outcries are at least premature. Admittedly the developments are bad for Israel and her expansionist hopes, and bad for France, who in Algeria has been digging her North African grave. But they can also be bad for the Kremlin, unless the United States continues the policy initiated by President Truman of defying the forces of history and alienating the central Middle East.

There is no more important foreign policy question before the United States today. It requires calm deliberation, not hysterical speculation.

Letters to the Editor

No Santa Claus

I note that the B.C. Federation of Labor is asking for a moratorium on debts, an idea first proposed by the notoriously Red-line Electrical Workers' Union, which would, of course, like nothing better than to wreck our economic system. If a moratorium was obtained, who would be the first to suffer? Union workers, of course, because what merchant could afford to give them credit when he could not be sure when his receipts would be cut off and he would go broke.

Let the government pay! But the government, i.e., the poor taxpayer, consumer, old age pensioner, etc., is already groaning under too heavy a load, and in addition is now asked to provide employment to a privileged class, among them the carpenters, reportedly 50 per cent unemployed and yet who are now asking the consumer for an increase of 43 cents per hour. No doubt this, of course, is designed to encourage the consumer to build a house or repair his house and thus relieve unemployment.

To paraphrase, I would like to say, "Consumer, arise! You will lose your insurance and your life savings if the present inflationary policies of labor are not checked." And to the union members I would like to say, "No, Virginia, there is not any Santa Claus, just consumers, pensioners, and taxpayers."

M. P. PAINE.

Extension Phones

Seems funny to me that a large organization such as the B.C. Telephone Company should have two prices to quote for the same service to its subscribers, for I noticed on Page 163 of the yellow pages in the telephone directory that an extension phone is only $1.20 per month, whereas other B.C. telephone subscribers in a rural area can obtain this convenience for 95 cents per month.

Considering the elderly, infirm citizens here, a large percentage pensioners, too, why not allow that lowered rate to apply here or in other congested areas? Surely the increased demand for extensions here would be profitable, too, for the company.

Life Without Bargains

Mr. J. G. Jenkins' pastime of shooting darts at the CCF target suggests jealousy of the support their brand of socialism receives as against his brand of a Godless and moneyless state of society. Can anyone imagine the horror of workers' wives' being deprived of their visits to the bargain counters?

W. A. JENKINS.

Another Splinter Group?

Although the provincial legislature is in session and will not prorogue until sometime in March, the events of the past week, which included forceful criticism of cabinet ministers from members of the government side of the House, and the crossing of the floor by one of its members, will doubtless make many citizens of B.C. consider that all is not well within the Social Credit party. It is to be hoped that whatever develops there is no thought of trying to organize another splinter group within the province of B.C.

THOS. TREDAWAY.

No Escape for Them

When a threat to our way of life and liberty roars from the skies, or overland in a modern military juggernaut, the finest specimens of our manhood rally without question or hesitation to meet the challenge with all the unity, strength and weapons at their command. The cost to themselves is not considered, does not deter them, even if it means life itself.

But what a contrast: in times of great economic pressure or stress, a large proportion of the nation's able-bodied men band themselves into groups, are determined to retreat once each year to the rear areas of greater personal security and leave the aged, the wounded, the widows and the poor to face the full onslaught in the front lines because they have no means of escape.

Shame on them.

J. BULLIVANT.

Share for Municipalities

Alberta to Slice Cash Reserve Pie

EDMONTON (CP) — In the last 10 years the Alberta government, enriched by oil, has built up a huge financial reserve which now out-weighs by nearly 10 to 1 a public debt reduced to its lowest point since 1918.

Less than half that reserve, now close to $300,000,000, is liquid assets. The rest, under Social Credit government policy, has been put into special loan funds to help finance a heavy backlog of municipal capital works.

That policy is to be reversed. The government, apparently considering its capital-projects task largely completed, plans to boost municipal grants with money previously earmarked for loan funds. Direct municipal grants totalled $80,000,000 this year.

Such a step would be the major issue in the Alberta legislature session opening Thursday. Only other contentious measure foreseen is the proposed revision of the Alberta Liquor Act to provide for such outlets as cocktail bars, subject to local option.

Provincial treasurer E. W. Hinman, after lengthy talks with municipal officials, has announced that the government in 1958-59 will start retaining only enough provincial revenue to handle its own obligations, turning the rest over to municipalities.

Mrs. Simmons' first husband, John Conway, was a government agent for 33 years in Stewart, Hazelton, Telkwa and Terrace. He died in 1940.

Her second husband, Hon. W. C. Simmons who died in 1956 was a judge of the supreme court of Alberta.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Sheila Marmo of Victoria; and two brothers, Walter Williscroft, Vancouver, and Capt. William Williscroft of Brentwood.

Highest Ever

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian retail sales were higher than ever in 1957, rising to an estimated $14,654,288,000, 2.5 per cent higher than the 1956 estimate of $14,297,558,000.

ARCHIBALD LEE

A. L. Lee Rites Today

Private funeral services for Archibald Louis Lee, 79, a retired professional photographer, who died here Monday night, will be held at 1.30 this afternoon at Chaplin's funeral home. Rev. Dr. W. W. MacPherson will officiate.

Cremation will follow with interment in the family plot at Elmwood Cemetery, Winnipeg.

Born and educated in Hamilton, Ont., Mr. Lee settled in Winnipeg, where he was on the executive of the Winnipeg Professional Photographers' Association and the Photographers Association of Western Canada.

More than 40 years a photographer, he continued his profession on arrival in Victoria in 1937 until his retirement in 1945.

He was a past master of Fort Garry Loyal Orange Lodge 120 and served on executives of County of Winnipeg LOL 'C64 and Grand Orange Lodge of Manitoba, compiling and writing in 1929 an historical review of the lodge. He was a Sir Knight of Juniper Royal Black Preceptory 733.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. John Wyatt Price, 1465 Bromley Place; two sisters, Mrs. W. E. Derby of Buffalo, N.Y., and Mrs. Ralph de Dascombe of Portland, Ore., and a brother Percy of Hamilton, Ont.

Apple Growers Face Tough Time

PENTICTON (CP)—Growers of "C" grade apples in the southern Okanagan are in for a tough time this year, says Gordon Wight, president of B.C. Tree Fruits, central selling agency for Okanagan growers. He said producers of high quality apples of the right size would "get by."

$3,942,000,000 Asked for Aid

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress yesterday for $3,942,000,000 for foreign aid. Congressional leaders quickly pledged their support, but warned that the request faced rough going in the House and Senate.

The president declared in a special message that a halt—or even a sharp reduction—in the aid program would mean a "massive increase" in defence spending and a "heavy increase" in draft calls to protect an isolated America.

He said that without its mutual security program the United States would be left virtually alone in a world dominated by Russia and he said this left continued aid as "our logical course."

House and Senate leaders of both parties endorsed continued aid, but noted that the opposition this year seemed stronger than ever.

HUGE WASTELAND

The Sahara desert covers about 3,500,000 square miles in North Africa.

No Man's Land

PARIS (UP)—The French cabinet decided yesterday to set up a "no man's land" along the entire Algerian-Tunisian frontier in a move to prevent new border incidents. All inhabitants along the Algerian side of the frontier will be evacuated and a mine field laid.

Police Dog Tracks Thieves After Island Safe Robbery

Zeballos Crippled By Gale

ZEBALLOS (CP)—This west coast Vancouver Island port was rallying last night after being heavily damaged by a 100-mile-per-hour gale Tuesday. No one was injured in the storm.

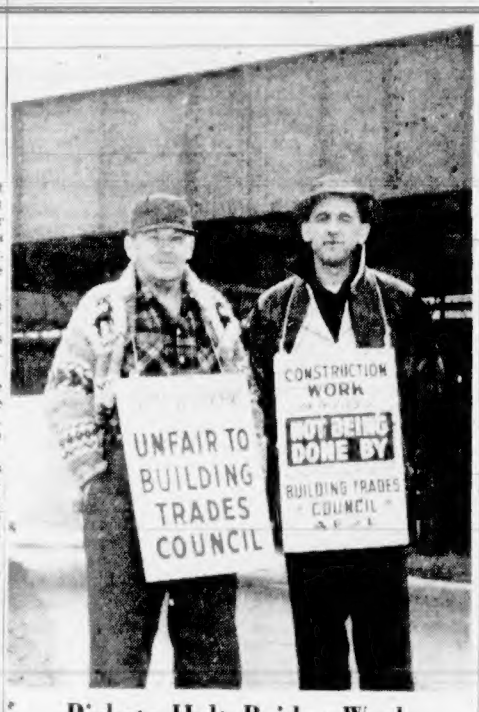
Shipping, marine facilities and airport facilities were hardest hit. One 42-foot tug was sunk and five others badly damaged.

Four fishermen's floats were wrecked and 500 feet of the Standard Oil Company's docks, together with fuel pipes, were demolished.

The village commission has appealed to the federal and provincial governments, urging that steps be taken at once to provide a new boat basin and an adequate airfield.

Games, Golf For Centenary

NANAIMO — Arrangements for two centennial projects were announced yesterday. Nanaimo Caledonian Society will organize a Highland Games July 12 at Caledonia Park, and Nanaimo Golf Club plans a mid-Island golf tournament June 8.



Pickets Halt Bridge Work

Union pickets have caused stoppage of steel construction work on CNR overpass at Koksilah, two miles south of Duncan. Ironworkers' union contends project was being worked by underpaid labor. Pickets here are Joe Miller and Robert Lake of Vancouver.—(Photo by Stan Cummer)

Caught In Act By RCMP

CAMPBELL RIVER — Two safecrackers, tracked down by an RCMP dog, appeared in Campbell River police court yesterday and were remanded for probation report and sentence.

Morris Berg, about 24, pleaded guilty to a breaking and entering with intent to commit an indictable offence charge and his partner, a 16-year-old boy, admitted the offence in juvenile court.

BID THWARTED

Berg entered a not guilty plea to a charge of contributing to juvenile delinquency and was remanded until Feb. 24.

They were thwarted in their attempt to rob the Central Builders Supply Store by an RCMP patrol which saw them removing the office safe early yesterday morning.

They entered by climbing up the walls of the store and getting through a roof window.

AXES TAKEN

Police said the thieves took axes from the store and broke through two doors to reach the safe. They left the place a shambles.

They picked up the safe key from the office and were loading the safe on the company's delivery truck when RCMP arrived.

CLIMBED BACK

The two robbers climbed back to the roof and dropped about 15 feet to the ground and took off on foot, with the police in pursuit.

They escaped under cover of darkness, but RCMP brought the police dog from Parksville.

The dog took up the scent from the roof and led police to the homes of the thieves in different areas about two miles on the outskirts of Campbell River.

Brannan Boys Back-Patted For Good Works by Lions

NANAIMO — The good qualities of the boys lodged in Brannan Lake School were noted by Lions Club members Monday night.

President Bob King handed over a plaque to school superintendent F. G. Hassard "in appreciation of services to the community by Brannan Lake boys." The plaque will be used as a monthly inter-house good conduct award at the school.

Mr. King said that since the school's establishment near Nanaimo, Lions had called on the boys to help out with various community projects and had always received wholehearted support.

RATING SHEETS

Walter Shogan, a member of the Lions and employed on the staff at the institution, will organize a "good behavior" contest. Rating sheets of the boys will reflect on the conduct standing of their cottage or billet at the end of each month.

Name of the cottage gaining the award most times during the year will be engraved on the plaque.

Shifts Staggered To Speed Traffic

PORT ALBERNI—Change in shifts at Alberni Pacific Division of MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd. will go into effect on Monday as a move to alleviate traffic congestion on city streets.

Announcement of the "staggered" shift was made in a letter from E. G. Stroynan read at council meeting.

Save Coal Mine Jobs Comox MLA Urges B.C.

Provincial government was urged yesterday to set up a policy which will permit Cumberland to keep its basic coal mining industry.

Dan Campbell (SC, Comox) said the 300 coal miners at Cumberland "are not yet out of work," but one of the B.C. institutions it supplies, Vancouver General Hospital, is thinking of switching to natural gas.

"A loss of 700 tons will mean the loss of one shift of miners," said Mr. Campbell. "The government very well could suggest that not at this time should this conversion go forward."

The Comox member also urged that no forest management licences be granted in the north end of Vancouver Island "unless they contain communities who own their own homes and run their own governments." He spoke of Port Alice and Port McNeill as "communities under complete domination" of forest companies.

Party Leaders To Visit Nanaimo

NANAIMO—CCF party leader M. J. Coldwell will address a public meeting in Nanaimo March 1.

On Feb. 25, Liberal leader Lester Pearson will be in Nanaimo, and Conservative candidate said he hopes to see Prime Minister John Diefenbaker in Nanaimo "sometime in March."

CCF Nominates Colin Cameron

NANAIMO — Colin Cameron was nominated Sunday to run as the CCF candidate in Nanaimo riding. Mr. Cameron is the sitting member of parliament. Liberals have named Ernest Miller and Conservatives W. F. (Bus) Matthews. Social Creditors will choose their candidate at a nominating convention Feb. 26.

SAN JUAN, P.R.—When Minnie Minoso went to bat for Cuba in the sixth inning, there was a sudden distrubance in a grandstand box near first base. During a ball game between Puerto Rico and Cuba, you can distinguish a disturbance from the prevailing bedlam because the characters involved usually stop screaming.

In this case the disturbers were a pair of thickset civilians of middle age who had sprung to their feet, clutched each other about the ears and started swinging. Each employed one arm to hold the other's head in chancery and was hacking away with the other fist, punching with clumsily harmless violence. They were discussing some obscure technical point about baseball.

Players on the infield and in the Puerto Rico team's dugout watched with mild curiosity. Whatever the discussion was about, no conclusion was reached evidently, for other customers hauled the debaters apart and when it was all over a cop moved in, tardily officious.

From his position as Puerto Rico's first baseman, Vic Power had been regarding the battlers attentively and when the half-inning was over he plucked a bat from the rack and proffered it to gents in the boxes. It was a temperate comment on the quality of hitting he'd been watching.

Big Game

Up to that point, hitting on the field had been no better than in the stands. It was the last and decisive game in the competition for the baseball championship of the Caribbean, a world series with latin accent and southern exposure. After four twi-night double-headers, one riot, and one abbreviated triple-header, Venezuela and Panama had been eliminated, Puerto Rico and Cuba were tied with three victories and two defeats each; and both were levelling behind the strongest pitching available.

Through six innings, Jerry Nelson had allowed Puerto Rico two hits and Cuba had made three off Bob Shaw, neither side mounting any scoring threat. They are strong right-handers, Shaw a rookie with the Tigers and Nelson the property of Milwaukee. A tall young man, Nelson fires an overhand fast ball that looks heavy. He is considered a lanzador magnifico, surpassed only by Juan Pizarro.

Leading off for Pureto Rico in the seventh, Roberto Clemente singled and kept going to third when the ball got past the right fielder. The crowd had risen as the inning started, setting up a clamor compared to which Milwaukee's County Stadium would sound like vespers in a cathedral. Now, with a runner on third base and none out, the only spectators who weren't leaping, bawling, whistling and rending their haberdashery were those perched like sparrows all along the outfield fences.

Power hit a fly to centre, not especially deep, and Clemente tagged up with his back to the infield, facing his manager on the coaching line, Ted Norbert.

Some fans in the United States may remember Norbert, though he married a Puerto Rican girl and has lived here for years. As a member of the Yankees' organization, he once made a notable contribution to big league baseball—he was one of the players the Yankees sent to San Francisco in payment for Joe DiMaggio.

The Manager's Lot

Anyhow, Clemente faked a break for the plate when Power's fly was caught, drawing a throw that got past Rafael Noble, the catcher. Backing up the plate, Shaw fielded the loose ball, looked up and discovered to his delight that Clemente had made a second break for home and then halted, frozen, halfway down the line. A routine run-up disposed of Puerto Rico's scoring chance.

The fans went to work on Norbert, blaming him for getting Clemente trapped. Chances are the runner had been going entirely on his own, for the play was right in front of him, but these rooters aren't distinguished for sweet reasonableness.

They don't hoo in the coarsely candid Bronx style. They cup their hands and hoot like owls: "Hoooo! Hoooo!" It makes an eerie sound, downright menacing. Latin banshees would sound exactly like that.

It Beats Working

Singles by Milton Smith and Minoso put runners on first and second starting Cuba's eighth. The next batter attempted a bombo de sacrificio. Little Valmy Thomas pounced on the ball in front of the plate, threw to third for a forceout, and a relay for a double play sailed into right field. Minoso scored and the other runner reached third, getting home on a sacrifice fly by Noble. The score was 2 to 0 for Cuba and Shaw saw to it that it stayed that way. When Ron Sanford was retired for the final out, the champions of the Caribbean abetted by Cuban civilians assaulted Shaw, and gave him an unsteady ride on their shoulders. Puerto Rico's rooters moved glumly toward the exits, muttering darkly about Norbert.

After a week of wild alarums, it was an anticlimax. Still, it had been the third world series witnessed in whole or part within five months—in New York and Milwaukee in October, in Japan in November, now in the Antilles. It beats shoveling snow.

Florida Embarrassment

Californians who may have had trouble explaining why the Los Angeles Angels see fit to do their training in Florida are probably getting considerable enjoyment out of pictures like this. Outfielder Carl Furillo grins as he poses for cameraman in front of a fire in the Dodger clubhouse, which, like the rest of Florida, has not been the warmest place in the world during worst cold spell in recent times.—(AP Photofax)

Hart's Late Goals Help Francis Win

VICTORIA	52	13	37	2	153	204	28

Last night's score: New Westminster 3 at VICTORIA 4.

Next game: Friday, VICTORIA at Vancouver.

Victoria Cougars broke into the win column in the Western Hockey League last night for the first time in seven games, coming from behind twice to defeat New Westminster Royals 4-3 before 1,524 fans—smallest crowd of the season at Memorial Arena.

Art Hart scored the last two goals of the game as the teams made up for 40 minutes of lacklustre hockey with a wide-open third period. The win snapped a five-game losing streak for the Cougars and a four-game winning streak for the Royals, who lost out on a chance to cut into the first-place margin of Vancouver Canucks.

STILL LOOKS BAD

As for the Cougars, they trail Seattle Americans by 23 points with 18 games left to play.

Hart, by far the fastest player on the ice, tied the score at 3-3 on a three-way rush with Eddie Dorohoy and Gordie Haworth at 10.20 of the third period.

He got the winning goal, his ninth of the season and third as a Cougar, at the 16.15 mark. Dennis Olson and Doug Anderson took the puck in on Bev Bentley, and Hart was at the other side of the net to slap in the pass.

However, Hart had to share honors for the night with Emile Francis, who had one of his hotter nights in the Cougar nets and was the major reason why the Royals didn't go further ahead in the third period.

BIG STOP

Francis, who finished with 28 stops for the night, blocked 12 in the final period. One was on Gordie Fashoway, who broke in with no one near him shortly after Hart had tied the score, only to be outguessed at the last split second.

Bentley made 30 stops for the Royals, but Francis had the more difficult saves to make.

There was no scoring in the first period and the Cougars, notably coach Pat Egan, were given a lusty booing by the crowd on several occasions.

Dick Van Impe took the puck away from defenceman John Yanchuk to score, unassisted, for the Royals, and Pat Hannigan made it 2-0 after the Royals crowded in on Francis for almost two minutes.

DOUG GETS 20TH

Gordie Haworth, continuing his fine play of recent games, scored from Eddie Dorohoy and Egan at 15.26, and Doug Macauley tied it up with his 20th goal of the season at 18.15.

Arnie Schmautz put the Royals ahead again early in the third period against the run of play before Hart came through with his goals.

Cougars play in Vancouver Friday night, host the Americans Saturday, and play them again in Seattle Sunday.

Basketball to Experiment With Time Penalties

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP)—They're going to try hockey rules in a basketball game between the Colorado State College and Colorado Mines junior varsity teams Monday night.

Every time a foul is called on a player, he must spend one or two minutes, at the referee's discretion, in a penalty box. No more than two players of one team may be off the floor at one time.

No free throws will be granted the team fouled. Instead, it will be given the ball out of bounds.

'Rocket' Back Tonight But Hope Dim for Roy

Maurice "Rocket" Richard, hockey's greatest scorer, will return to action tonight when Montreal Canadiens host Boston Bruins in a National Hockey League game.

Montreal officials announced yesterday that Richard would see his first action since his November injury in tonight's game.

Richard worked out with the club yesterday, and was reunited with younger brother Henri and Dickie Moore on the line which was setting the NHL ablaze before the elder Richard suffered a cut Achilles tendon in a game against Toronto Maple Leafs.

Marcel Bonin, who filled in acceptably while "The Rocket" was sidelined, worked out on a line with Jean Beliveau and Floyd Curry.

The elder Richard seemed on his way to his first scoring title at the time of the injury, having 11 goals and 12 assists in the 14 games he played.

Meanwhile, the news about another great athlete was not nearly as good with hope that Roy Campanella might completely recover from the paralysis which gripped him after an automobile accident waning.

Campanella, who suffered a broken neck in the accident, on January 28, is still in a Glen Cove, N.Y., hospital and doctors said yesterday he has made no progress at all in the last two weeks. In fact, Campanella has less feeling in his limbs now than he had two weeks ago.

"The longer the paralysis remains unchanged, the less one can expect for the future" said yesterdays hospital bulletin.

Campanella still has some difficulty in breathing but it was noted in the bulletin that the tube which had been inserted in his throat to help "will probably be removed in a few weeks."

CHARLOTTETOWN — Northern Ontario appears on its way to a second successive Canadian high school curling championship after completion of six rounds in the 11-rink round-robin playoff.

The rink from Fort William Collegiate, skipped by Tom Tod, won twice Wednesday and was the only unbeaten rink left after completion of the sixth round.

Tod's rink got by Quebec in yesterday's first draw, 7-4, after a good tussle, then came through in what may have been the pivotal game by besting previously-unbeaten Alberta 9-4, last night.

Alberta knocked Ontario out of the unbeaten ranks in the afternoon with a 9-8 win, barely surviving a bad last end on which the losers counted three rocks.

Prince Edward Island's Prince of Wales College entry from Charlottetown, putting on a good show for home-town fans, stayed in the running.

The home rink slipped in the afternoon against the improving Manitoba rink and went down, 8-11, to absorb its first defeat. The Charlottetown rink got a stiff tussle from winless Newfoundland last night but managed to squeak by for a 9-7 win which left it in a second-place tie with Ontario and Alberta.

Unless the unexpected happens in the remaining five draws, the battle has narrowed down to the four top rinks, all others having lost at least three games.

British Columbia's entry from Prince George slipped twice more yesterday, losing, 7-6, when Nova Scotia counted two on the last end and then taking a 12-3 trouncing from Manitoba in the evening.

KIMBERLEY — A new Western Canada ladies' curling champion was assured here Wednesday when the defending champions were eliminated in prdvincial title play.

Mrs. Marg Fuller of Nanaimo, who skipped Pat Good, Sylvia Koster and Edna Quinney to the Western title last year, won her last three games in the round-robin playdowns but her two defeats, on Tuesday were one too many to give her a chance to defend.

Tied for the lead and due to play off early Thursday afternoon were Mrs. Lois Haddon of Vancouver and Mrs. Ina Hansen of Kimberley, both of whom compiled 4-1 records in the provincial final.

Mrs. Hansen retained her chance of representing B.C. with a thrilling 11-10, extra-end victory over Mrs. Haddon on the last draw. The Kimberley skip tied the score on the 10th end, got a playoff chance when Mrs. Haddn mised with her last rock on the extra end.

Mrs. Fuller handed Mrs. Hansen her only defeat, winning by a 7-5 score in yesterday's first draw.

The Nanaimo rink then went on to defeat Mrs. Doreen Burgess of Chilliwack and Mrs. Leslie Cmolik of Kelowna, to finish up in third place, missing out on hopes to get into a playoff when Mrs. Haddon and Mrs. Hansen both won in the fourth round.

Winner of today's playoff will go to Calgary in mid-March for the Western Canada finals against rinks from the three Prairie provinces.

Curling with Mrs. Hadden are Mrs. Betty Tansley, Mrs. Isobel Campbell and Mrs. Ruth Ward. Supporting Mrs. Hansen are Mrs. Isabel Leith, Mrs. Ada Calles and Mrs. Cherry Sanderson.

Bowlers Star For Pakistan

KINGSTON, Jamaica (Reuters) — Pakistan's touring cricket team dismissed Jamaica Wednesday for 167 on the first day of a four-day match but lost three wickets for 67 runs in reply.

Kehan Mohammad claimed five wickets for 72 runs. Haseeb Ahsan, young off-spinner, took four for 43.

The Jamaicans, who have a reputation as strong batsmen, would have been out more cheaply except for a desperate last-wicket stand by R. Scarlett, top scorer with 34, and H. Sewell, 16 not out, which added 43 to the score.

Rangers Take Third in Row

NEW YORK — New York Rangers held off a third-period threat by Chicago Black Hawks for a 3-2 victory here last night to run their winning streak to three games and solidify their hold on second place in the tight National Hockey League race.

Rangers now hold a three-point edge over Detroit Red Wings, and are five points ahead of the slipping Boston Bruins. Victory, their 24th against 23 defeats this season, moved the Rangers over the .500 mark for the first time since Jan. 21.

Defenceman Bill Gadsby supplied what proved to be the winning goal 43 seconds after the start of the third period. The goal, which gave the Rangers a 3-0 lead, was his 13th, a season high for the NHL veteran.

Gump Worsley was aiming for his third straight shutout for the Rangers, and had it until 12.13 of the period, when Gus Mortson scored. Ed Litzenberger got his 22nd goal little more than a minute later.

Parker MacDonald opened scoring for the Rangers in the first period, after goalie Glenn Hall had made two fine saves on Harry Howell.

Andy Hebenton made it 2-0 on a second-period power play while Jim Thomson was in the penalty box.

Manchester's Remnants Win Drama-Filled Cup Match, 3-0

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—Manchester United defeated Sheffield Wednesday, 3-0, in a drama-packed English soccer cup match Wednesday night—United's first game since seven of its stars were killed in the Munich plane crash Feb. 6.

A sellout crowd of 62,000, many of them wearing black ties and armbands, turned up at the Old Trafford Stadium to cheer the United. Youngsters replacing the dead or injured veterans, produced the spirit that made United one of the world's best teams.

YOUNGSTERS SCORE

United led, 1-0, at half-time on a goal by 18-year-old wing Seamus Brennan. Brennan got the second goal in the 10th minute and 18-year-old centre forward Alex Dawson made it 3-0 with a goal six minutes from the end of the game.

It was the sort of victory that would have brought a smile to the face of Manchester manager Matt Busby, now lying injured in a Munich Hospital.

Most of the reserves were youngsters Busby had discovered playing in junior soccer.

"This was our memorial to the boys who died at Munich, and also to those still lying injured in hospital," said goalkeeper Harry Gregg.

Gregg, 23, and fullback Billy Foulkes escaped uninjured from the Munich crash and both played Wednesday night.

Before the match Gregg said: "The thing we want to show the world tonight is that Manchester United will rise again."

Backing the youngsters was the experience of players such as Gregg, Foulkes, back Stan Crowther and inside-forward Ernie Taylor.

Crowther was purshased from Aston Villa for a reported £20,000 only an hour before the kick-off. Taylor joined Manchester from Blackpool at a transfer fee of about £8,000.

Brennan took over on the left wing at the last minute. Originally it had been decided to play 19-year-old Reg Hunter.

GOALIE INSPIRATION

While Brennan, who took over the left wing spot at the last minute, was a hero of a great occasion, no one did more than Gregg to give his young colleagues the confidence they needed.

From the first he fielded the ball surely and never hesitated to charge into the pack, pulling down balls from corners or cutting out crosses from the wings. Gregg received fine support from Foulkes, who was steady in all he did.

In Munich, four United players heard a radio commentary of the match. A hospital official said "They were terribly happy."

The wives, relatives and sweethearts of the injured players were told of the United victory at a Munich hotel.

Mrs. Danny Blanchflower said: "That's gorgeous. They must have played like devils."

Dockers Could Block Totems In Lower Island School Meet

Eight teams go after the Lower Island high school basketball crown at Esquimalt High School gym this weekend, and the big question still to be answered is "How strong are the Victoria High High Totems?"

For the Totems, the Lower Island tournament has been in past seasons little more than a formality, a stepping-stone to their seemingly-inevitable berth in the Island playoffs. As defending champions, they will undoubtedly go into this tourney in their customary favorites' role.

HATE GOOD CHANCE

However, this season's tournament could be one of the most interesting in the history of the Lower Island competition, because there may be a team in it ready to give the Totems all they can handle in the way of competition.

Gerry Horn's Esquimalt Dockers, who were trounced, 52-22, by the Totems in last year's final, are reported improving with every outing, and are out to avenge that last defeat.

Totems and Dockers met only once this season. The Totems had to come from behind in the final quarter for a 31-29 victory. Since then, the Dockers have established themselves as contenders by bouncing Ladysmith, this year's Mid-Island champion, 45-13.

Porky Andrews' Totems aren't an easy team to figure. They beat Esquimalt by one basket. Then they took on Victoria College Vikings in what was rated as the mis-match of the season, and were only beaten by seven points, 45-38, by the Western Canada junior champions.

TOUGH AGAIN

Vikings didn't like that too well and were hungry for another shot at the Totems. But when the clubs met in the final of the Inter-Scholastic tournament the Vikings had their hands full again and only won by a score of 43-34.

Esquimalt and the Totems are heavy favorites to meet in the final, thereby filling two of the three berths open in the Island playoff, March 7-8 at Cumberland.

Other schools in the event are Oak Bay, North Saanich, Mount View, Mt. Douglas, Belmont, North Saanich and St. Louis College.

Play gets under way at 10.30 Friday morning, when the Totems meet North Saanich. Games are scheduled throughout the day and the two finalists will be decided Friday night. Final round of the tournament begins at 5 p.m. Saturday, with the final set for 8.45.

According to the Solunar Tables calculated for this area, the best times for fishing and hunting for today and tomorrow will be as follows:

TODAY A.M. Minor	A.M. Major	P.M. Minor	P.M. Major
6.55	12.40	7.20	1.00
TOMORROW
7.35	1.20	8.00	1.40

Major solunar periods, lasting 1½ to 2 hours, dark type.
Minor periods, shorter in duration, light type.

Curling Loop Sets Draws For Playdown

Playdowns of the Sunday Commercial Curling League will get under way Sunday with two draws at Victoria Curling Club.

A total of 32 rinks are competing in the straight knockout competition. Next draws will be held two weeks later.

Mrs. Alma McKibben's rink took "B" event honors. The Anderson, Wright and Balloch rinks were second, third and fourth, respectively. "C" event honors went to the Bill Gilhooly rink, which was followed by the Gardner, Gorge Hotel and Okerstrom foursomes.

Sunday's draw follows:

1.30 p.m.—Eagles No. 2 vs. Moir, Toby vs. McBride, Taylor vs. Tang, Big Mile House vs. W. Gallacher, Collier vs. Gardner, Riches vs. Beech, Douglas vs. Favel, Carson vs. Iverson.

3.30 p.m.—Hill vs. Shea, Gilhooly vs. Empress Motors, McKibben vs. Okerstrom, Renfrew vs. Goodwin, Ricotti vs. Gorge Hotel, Jones vs. B. Gallagher, Anderson vs. Wright, Balloch vs. Overguard.

City Teams Beaten In Island Hockey

Two all-star clubs from the Greater Victoria Minor Hockey Association were beaten by Nanaimo teams as Vancouver Island playoffs got under way yesterday at Memorial Arena.

Dan Zolob of Nanaimo took care of the Victoria juvenile team almost single-handed in the opening game of a similar series. Zolob scored five goals and drew one assist in a runaway 10-3 victory. Nanaimo led, 4-3, at the end of the second period.

Final games in both series will be played at Nanaimo next week.

City Sportsman Heads New B.C. Skeet Group

Robert "Dib" Noble of Victoria was elected president of the newly-formed B.C. Skeet Association at the organizational meeting in Vancouver last weekend.

Main objectives of the new association were outlined. They are: To improve standards of tournaments; sponsor annual provincial championships; register provincial and other tournament scores; supply member clubs with annual records and act as a clearing house for all B.C. meets to avoid clashes; to give B.C. marksmen a voice in Dominion, International and Olympic matters.

Dates were not finalized at the meeting, but the B.C. Skeet Meet will be held at the Victoria Gun Club two days in mid-August. It is the organization's hope to have at least one registered shoot per year at each of the 11 trap clubs with skeet ranges in the province.

Other officers elected for the association were Bill Johnston, Victoria, first vice-president; Len Parker, Vancouver, second vice-president; Ken Bodwell, Vancouver, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Beryll Trewhitt, Vancouver, recording-secretary.

City Boxers Seek Titles

Two city boxers will compete in the annual Seattle Golden Gloves competition starting Friday night.

Brian O'Hare, one of the outstanding young B.C. prospects, will fight in the 118-pound division, while Al Curtis is entered in the 140-pound class.

Tobaccos Nose-Dive At New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A burst of selling hit cigaret shares late and brought pressure into some other sections of the market.

This drive, set off by a house of representatives committee charge that filter-tip cigarets failed to offer adequate protection against nicotine, came at a time when the whole market had been making a good recovery under the lead of steels and chemicals.

Selling orders came into the tobaccos in such volume that Lorillard was suspended for a time. It sank nearly 4 points before meeting meagre support. Others of the cigaret group fell more than a point to more than 3 points.

Steel shares scaled down their gains. Chemicals dipped from their highs. Chrysler lost a point in the autos. Losses came into some of the oils, store shares, and building stocks after the last group had shown strength.

Pipelines Dip

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices were mixed to lower in quiet trading.

Pipelines dipped early in the day. Trans-Mountain closed with a loss of 2 points at 45 and Trans-Canada with a loss of 1⅝ at 28. Refining oils were lower. McColl Oil dropped a point to 52.

Newsprints and base metals were mixed. International Paper dropped 1½ to 86½ and Abitibi Paper improved ⅛ to 28. Asbestos declined ⅛ to a new low of 27¾.

Banks and beverages were firm. Utilities were generally lower. Calgary-Edmonton closed with a loss of ⅜ at a new loss of 18¾.

Buyers Lacking

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market failed to hold a slight rise and sunk narrowly lower amid the slowest trading in more than five weeks.

Brokers said the decline was a result of a lack of buying rather than any sustained selling.

Pulp Stocks Advance

VANCOUVER — Crown Zellerbach Canada at $17½ and MacMillan B. at $27½ each added 50 cents, while B.C. Power Corporation was up 75 cents at $40¾. Western Plywood on the other hand was off 25 cents at $13½.

Inland Natural Gas was lower at $6½ while Ocean Cement changed hands at $13½.

Mines and oils were idle, but in a weak oil section Pacific Petroleum dipped to $18.

London Stock Prices

LONDON (CP) — The stock market was mixed in selective buying. Gilt-edged securities and South African gold shares improved, but industrials and oils were generally lower.

Anglo Newfoundland Newsprint and Hudson's Bay were lower. Stores gained on a late buying spurt.

'Plug The Leaks'

Ottawa — All servants who release information without the knowledge of cabinet ministers was called for Tuesday by Fred Sharp (SC, Vancouver East).

"If information is being sent out, originating from sources within the departments, regardless of how dedicated the employee is supposed to be, he should be dismissed without hesitation," he said.

Mr. Sharp, often rumored as a Social Credit "rebel," said a government backbencher became a little tired of trying to defend government policy when doubt existed.

Criticism of the Winnipeg School should never have reached the stage it did and the rumors and criticism should have been "spiked at the outset rather than letting a situation involving so many people become a political football," said Mr. Sharp.

The member also mildly criticized the government's policy over debt reduction.

He agreed with the recommended the government on its debt reduction program, said Mr. Sharp, but for the sake of $3,000,000 less toward this "we could have had a situation which would be next to perfect."

This amount would cover all the extra expenses and would bring satisfaction to everyone, he said.

"What a mess I've made of things!"

His press agents fired him—his own manager called him an S.O.B.—and not even his mother-in-law was talking to him. In fact, things got so bad Vic considered quitting show business in spite of the fortune it paid him.

Now, in this week's Saturday Evening Post, the famous singer shows you the little-known mess behind his success by revealing the truth about his alleged connection with the underworld • his bitter battles with the press • his private brawl with the Army and his "professional black-out" after he was discharged • the way Mitch Miller had to trick him into recording one of his best sellers, "On the Street Where You Live" • his intense jealousy over his lovely cinema-actress wife, Pier Angeli, and why he calls her a dozen times a day when he's on the road.

Read "What a Mess I've Made of Things!" by Vic Damone as told to Post author Dean Jennings.

Also in this issue:

"The Great Winter-Olympics Fight" — the amazing story of how a super-salesman sold obscure Squaw Valley, California, to the world for the 1960 games—and the trouble we're having keeping some of the promises he made!

Promise To Build Repeated

Works Minister W. N. Chant said last night that George Gregory's nattering and nagging will neither advance nor retard the construction of a new Victoria courthouse.

The minister speaking in the budget debate barely touched on his own department as he attacked opposition criticisms the tight money policies of the former Liberal government and the lukewarm Liberal group in the House.

Mr. Gregory persistently interjected during the opening of the minister's address with questions: "Tell us about that court house, Bill." "You won't get a cent [illegible] and don't build that courthouse," and "Well I have to see it."

Chamber's Crumpet Recipe Excellent But Where Do You Find the 'Rings'?

Did you read the crumpet story in The Colonist recently? It seems a visitor from California had thoroughly enjoyed this typically English afternoon tea snack and being unable to find anyone south of the border who knew how to make them he wrote to the Victoria Chamber of Commerce for the recipe.

With the kind permission of Mr. Arnold Webb, chamber's managing secretary, I reproduce it below.

CRUMPETS

"Three cups scalded milk; ½ cup butter; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 yeast cake; 3 to 4 cups flour.

"Add butter and salt to milk. When lukewarm add yeast cake or the equivalent in one package of dried, grated yeast. When dissolved add enough flour to make dough a little softer than cake dough. Beat thoroughly, cover and let rise until light. Drop into crumpet rings which have been greased or oil and fry. When bread on the under side turns over and cook until brown on the other side.

So far so good but several readers who copped the recipe when it ran the first time report they have tried all over the place to buy crumpet rings but met with no success. Nothing daunted Mrs. G. H. H. came up with the answer and has asked me to pass it along.

Take the cover tins from sweet cream, cut off the bottom and the goodie and arrange them right side up fairly close together in other words put the rings on the

Chamber's CRUMPET Recipe

... grease the inside of the rings and the griddle on the same way as you would on the stove, she uses 2 tablespoons of batter for each crumpet which makes them about 3½ inches in diameter.

* * *

Although this country is noted for its cheese for some reason or other Canadians do not eat a large amount of it. Somewhere I read that the individual consumption of cheese is below five pounds per person per year. This is a very low figure compared with many other countries.

Since cheese is a comparatively inexpensive form of nourishing food here are some ideas of combining it with seasonable vegetables.

BRUSSELS SPROUTS IN CHEESE BATTER

One pint brussels sprouts (about 12 to 15), ½ cup flour, salt and pepper, ½ teaspoon baking powder, 1 egg, ¼ cup grated cheese.

Wash sprouts thoroughly and cook in a small amount of boiling salted water (in top of double boiler) until tender but not soft. Mix flour, salt, pepper and baking powder. Beat egg slightly, add milk and add gradually to the flour mixture. Beat thoroughly to a smooth batter. Add cheese and blend well. Dip sprouts in batter, one at a time and drop immediately into hot deep fat. Cook until golden brown, about 3 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper.

CHEESE VEGETABLE RAREBIT

(about 6 servings)

One cup tomato juice, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 2 tea spoons Worchester sauce, salt and pepper, 1 egg, 3 cups coarsely grated cheese, 3 cups assorted cooked vegetables, 6 slices toast.

In top of double boiler heat tomato juice, butter and seasonings. Add well-beaten egg and cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Add grated cheese and stir until melted. Arrange hot vegetables on toast or in toast cups made by pressing slices of fresh bread into muffin tins and toasting in not oven. Pour sauce over vegetables and serve immediately.

CHEESE COATED PARSNIPS

Peel required amount of parsnips and cute into cubes. Cook in small amount of boiling salted water until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain and roll in finely grated cheese. Place in a shallow, greased baking dish and bake in moderate oven until golden brown.

TRICK OF THE DAY

"Before cooking sausages," says Mrs. W. R., "prick them several times with a metal skewer and cover with boiling water for just a few minutes. Drain well. This prevents the skins from bursting during cooking."

Law Forbids Parents to Marry

CAPETOWN (Reuters) — Experts estimate that in Cape Province alone there are hundreds of human tragedies similar to that of Ernest Wheeler and Augusta Jacobs.

They have lived together for many years as man and wife. But they cannot get married because he is white and she is Negro. Such a marriage is against the law in South Africa.

They were sent to prison recently for an offence under the Immorality Act. A pardon was granted and now they are back at home with their children.

The couple say they first met 13 years ago. In 1949 they published the banns for their marriage in the Dutch Reformed Church. But before the ceremony could be performed the Mixed Marriages Act became law. Marriage for them was out of the question.

"We had everything ready for the wedding," said Augusta.

City council gave preliminary passage last night to a bylaw to purchase the Vince Johnson property for $8,000 for Elliott Street extension.

If this was the ordinary 3-bedroom NHA house we wouldn't appreciate having the opportunity to sell it, but because there are so many homes like it we would not be over enthused. However this house is a special house—a home for the discriminating buyer—the person who wants something better—but who [illegible] ...ayment—wants NHA advantages — wants reasonable monthly payment (no 2nd mortgage)—wants a good district. These are only a few of the features of this home in addition it has an extra-large living room with large picture window, valances, beautiful golden ash panelling, a separate dining room with built-in mahogany china cabinets—or a room that can be also used as a fourth bedroom or TV room. The large kitchen has extensive kitchen cabinets in natural wood, self-edged Arborite counters and lots of table area. The bathroom with a special vanity with clothes hamper space is another of the features you will appreciate. The bedrooms are not the skimpy-sized rooms you so often see—this house is 1,200 square feet — and adding to the size of the space is the sliding mahogany doors. Now, for the people who know quality building, wait till you see the basement—fully ...mp-serviced with a 20-unit bin—you are not going to have to rewire your house if you add equipment—100,000 BTU Console furnace, one of the most important features in a house which this contractor has gone out of his way to ensure you will have the best. Monthly payments (P. and I.) $80.08. 2 weeks possession. Please phone me for an appointment—you won't regret it.
